Subject	Chapter 117. Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills for Fine Arts
Subchapter	Subchapter E. Middle School, Adopted 2013
Course	§117.213. Theatre, Middle School 3, Adopted 2013.

(a) Introduction.

(1) The fine arts incorporate the study of dance, music, theatre, and the visual arts to offer unique experiences and empower students to explore realities, relationships. These disciplines engage and motivate all students through active learning, critical thinking, and innovative problem solving. The fine arts develop cognitive functions, increase student academic achievement, higher-order thinking, communication, and collaboration skills, making the fine arts applicable to college readiness, career workplace environments, social skills, and everyday life. Students develop aesthetic and cultural awareness through exploration, leading to creative expression. Creative expression encouraged through the study of the fine arts, is essential to nurture and develop the whole child.

(2) Four basic strands--foundations: inquiry and understanding; creative expression; historical and cultural relevance ; and critical evaluation and response--provide structures for organizing knowledge and skills students are expected to acquire. Through the foundations: inquiry and understanding strand, students develop a perspective on human relationships, and the world using elements of drama and conventions of theatre. Through the creative expression strand, students communicate in a dramatic way in artistic thinking, build positive self-concepts, relate interpersonally, and integrate knowledge with other content areas in a relevant manner. Through the historical and cultural relevance strand, students increase their understanding of heritage and traditions in theatre and the diversity of world cultures as expressed in theatre. Through the critical evaluation and response strand, students engage in inquiry and dialogue, accept constructive criticism, revise personal views to promote creative and critical thinking, and the ability to appreciate and evaluate live theatre.
