

Appendix A Acknowledgements Gonzalo Salazar, Superintendent, Los

2023 Texas Accountability Advisory Group (TAAG)

Representatives from school districts, legislative offices, and the business community met in September 2022, October, and November 2022, January, June, and September 2023 to make recommendations to address policy and technical issues for 2023 accountability.

Legislative Staff

Chris Duke, Education Policy Analyst, Office of Lieutenant Governor

Sydni Gaitan, Budget and Policy Advisor, Office of the Governor

Tamoria Jones, House Public Education Committee Director, House Public Education Committee

Joel Resendez, Senate Higher Education Committee Director, Senate Higher Education Committee

Daniel Warner, Education Policy Advisor, Office of the Speaker of the House

School District / Charter Schools

Sara Arispe, Associate Superintendent, Fort Worth Independent School District (ISD)

Jonathan Basha, Principal, Gonzales ISD

Eddie Conger, Superintendent, International Leadership of Texas Charter Schools

James Cureton, Director, Assessments and Accountability, Tyler ISD

LaTonya Goffney, Superintendent, Aldine ISD

Theresa Urrabazo, Sr. Executive Director, San Antonio ISD

Business / Education Organization Representatives

Benjamin Mackey, Executive Director, Texas Impact Network

William McKenzie, Sr. Editorial Director, George W. Bush Institute

Gilbert Zavala, Vice President, Greater Austin Chamber of Commerce

Robert Sanborn, President, Children at Risk

TEA Staff

Many people contributed to the development of the 2023 Accountability Manual. The project staff wish to thank these individuals for their expert advice and prompt review of our materials. Their comments greatly enhanced the accuracy and format of the document.

Executive Management

Mike Morath, Commissioner of Education