TEA is collecting information about which LEAs are intending to benefit from Additional Days School Year (ADSY) funding in the 2020-2021 school year to better estimate the financial impact to the state. All LEAs, regardless of intent to benefit from ADSY funding, should complete the survey linked below.

Background Information:

House Bill 3 added half-day formula funding for school systems that add instructional days to any of their elementary schools starting in the 2020-2021 school year. Funding for an ADSY is available for those days beyond a minimum of 180, up to 210 total, specifically for grades prekindergarten-5. TEA has identified three potential options for ADSY implementation. The survey will request LEAs utilizing ADSY in 2020-2021 to identify which option most closely aligns with their intended implementation. These options are outlined below.

Option 1 - Voluntary Summer Learning

Campuses hold a traditional 180 day calendar and have up to 30 days for something additional for a targeted subset of students, such as summer enrichment.

Option 2 - Intersessional Calendar

Campuses conduct a regular calendar of 180 days spaced out over the full year, with intermittent breaks for targeted remediation with a subset of students.

Option 3 - Full Year Redesign

Campuses conduct a revamped 210 day calendar and change daily schedules to decrease instruction time so it can be spread out over additional days and increase time for planning and student brain breaks.
